Astronaut Is Picked After Chimp Flight

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Heartened by the world-circling space flight of a chimpanzee, the United States picked a man to take the next step up the long, dark stairway to the moon.
But it was Enos, a serious 37½ pound chimp, who paved the way with his whirlwind trip, twice around the world Wednesday.
Just 3 hours and 21 minutes after he had ridden an Atlas rocket into the sky, Enos was plucked from the sea by a Navy destroyer 255 miles south of Bermuda.
Less than two hours later, space officials named U.S. Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. to ride a similar spacecraft three times around the world. Understudy Glenn for that first American manned orbital shot is Astronaut Scott Carpenter.

Officials also named a team for the second manned shot: Astronaut Donald B. Slayton, with Astronaut Walter Schirra backing him up.
There is no assurance, however, that the United States will be able to put a man into orbit around the globe this year.

Officials denied any urgency for the flight, suggesting it was not yet decided whether man or animal would ride the next Project Mercury rocket into earth orbit.

But only a day earlier, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration had allotted a contract for the design and construction of a three-man space capsule that could go to the moon.

True, scientists had to bring Enos and his spacecraft to earth before the intended three orbits of the earth had been completed. True, difficulties within the spacecraft itself were the reason. But NASA officials emphasized at a news conference later that a man in the spacecraft would have been able to make manual adjustments and finish the third orbit.

It was a remarkable 15 minutes that spelled finish to Enos' flight. As his spacecraft glided over the tracking station at Muehea, Australia, scientists took quick note of disturbing radio reports from the automatic watchdog equipment in the capsule.

Education Said Hope of the South

By JACK MARTIN
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Governors, educators and other Southern leaders met today to hear outlined a blueprint that bluntly tied the South's economic destiny to advances in its higher education program.

The comprehensive report was the work of the Commission on Goals for Higher Education in the South set up by the Southern Regional Education Board.
It proposed a billion dollar increase in spending and boosting of enrollment in Southern colleges and universities to 1.7 million students by 1970. Projected costs would be $2.9 billion. Higher education now costs $1.1 billion a year for 883,000 students.
The report was called "Within Our Reach."

Germany Buying Most Poultry

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. shipments of poultry to West Germany, the world's largest importer, almost doubled last year.

The Agriculture Department reported today that German imports from this country totaled 80 million pounds last year as compared with 46 million pounds in 1959. The Netherlands was the largest supplier to West Germany with 104 million pounds.

World trade in poultry meat, indicated by imports of eight principal markets, reached a new high of 416 million pounds in 1960, 26 per cent above the preceding year and 80 percent above 1958. Rising West German imports accounted for 73 percent of total trade, the department reported, while Switzerland and Austria also imported more.

Dominican Has to Use Bombs Against Mobs

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Police hurled detonation bombs to scatter a mob of youths on this third day of a general strike attempt to oust the government of President Joaquin Balaguer.

The police moved in when the youths sought to start an anti-Balaguer demonstration in the heart of the city.

Balaguer has repeatedly declared he will not resign under pressure. An opposition leader said Wednesday night much progress has been made in talks with Balaguer on a formula for a new government and only details remain unsettled.

Juan Bosch, president of the Revolutionary Party and self-appointed mediator between Balaguer and the National Civic Union, the dominant opposition faction, reported the progress after the second day of a nationwide general strike aimed at toppling Balaguer's regime.

Aruro Morales Carrion, UMS, deputy undersecretary of state for Latin-American affairs, met with the Civic president, Viriato Fiallo, but . . . ed to give any information on the talk.

The work stoppages which closed virtually all shops and businesses in the nation erupted into scattered clashes in Santo Domingo between heavily armed troops and angry mobs Wednesday.

Soldiers and police used tear gas and clubs to break up one mob which forced the closure of a few stores that had remained open. Some demonstrators stoned taxicabs and streets were littered with broken glass and rocks.

The luxury yacht Angelita, on which Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr. sailed into exile Nov. 17, arrived back early today under the command of a Dominican naval officer, Capt. Moises Cordero.

The vessel's movements of the past 13 days were not announced and it remained unclear just how the government regained possession of it.

Communists Refuse to Register

NEW YORK (AP) — The Communist party of the United States has repeated the declaration that its officers will not register under the Internal Security Act.

Midnight tonight is the deadline for registering, and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy repeats that the Department of Justice "will enforce the law."

Kennedy, commenting on the party's new statement that its officers would ignore the deadline, said in Washington: "All that the Communist party and its officers are being required to do is register in accordance with a law passed by the Congress and affirmed by the Supreme Court after a full and fair judicial process."

"The Communist party has not been outlawed. It has not been asked to curtail its activities, in any way."

The law was passed in 1950, and the registration provisions were upheld by the Supreme Court last June after 10 years of litigation instituted by the party.

The party's new statement, issued here Wednesday, said the act is the "most repressive single statute in the history of our country."

The law provides fines up to $10,000 a day for the party for each day of defiance. It provides the same fines, plus prison terms, for officers and individual members who defy the law.

High Flying Chimp to Be Examined

ST. GEORGE'S, Bermuda (AP) — Enos, the orbiting chimpanzee, arrived here aboard a destroyer today and was whisked off immediately to the hospital at Kindley Air Force Base for a checkup.

He appeared bright and calm but quiet.

The vessel which picked him up from the sea after his two orbits around the earth Wednesday brought him to this island.

The chimp was resting in a private room on the second floor.

Veterinary technicians and Air Force enlisted men were watching over him.

Before getting his rest Enos was taken for a short walk along the corridor of the hospital to get his land legs back.

U. S. Crime Shows an Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime continued to increase in both urban and rural areas during the first nine months of this year.

This is the gist of the FBI's uniform crime reports for the period, announced today by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy. City crime jumped 4 per cent over the same period in 1960, while the rural increase was 9 per cent.

In making his report, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover pointed out that the 4 per cent city rise is especially significant in light of substantial increases and new peaks in all crime categories in 1960.

A sharp rise in suburban areas helped account for the increased city crime. The over-all percentage rise in cities in the 25,000 to 50,000 population group, many of which comprise the country's suburban areas, was 10 per cent.

An "alarming" 23 per cent increase in forcible rape was reported by cities with populations from 250,000 to 500,000. The 39 cities in this group reported 935 rapes, compared with 761 during the same period last year.

At the same time, forcible rapes for all cities reported declined 1 per cent, while increases were chalked up in all other crime categories. Included were a 4 per cent increase in murders, larcenies of $50 and over and auto thefts, a 2 per cent rise in robberies and aggravated assaults and a 5 per cent increase in burglaries.

The statistics were supplied to the FBI by police agencies throughout the country.

Mr. Churchill Observes Birthday

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill walked into the House of Commons this afternoon and the mother of parliaments stopped all business to cheer him on his 87th birthday.

Entering the House—after a luncheon of oysters and lamb chops, washed down by champagne—Britain's great wartime leader made the customary bow to the speaker.

At the sight of Churchill, his fellow Conservatives and opposition Laborites filled the hall with cheers.

Even the spectators' gallery joined the cheering. This is decidedly against the rules—but the speaker made no move to halt it.

His eyes filled with tears, Sir Winston who had reached his seat during the cheering—slowly rose. With the aid of his walking stick he stood upright then bowing to his fellow Conservatives and to the opposition said: "I am very grateful to the House."

This was the signal for more cheering. The scene was made more colorful as the members picked up their order papers and waved them like schoolboys.

After his brief remark, Sir Winston sat down.

Feeling fine and looking his old self, Sir Winston's 87th birthday was one of his busiest in years. It was an action-packed day that would have staggered most men his age.

It called for a big breakfast, reading an avalanche of birthday greetings from all over the world, a luncheon at the Savoy Hotel, the trip to the House, a tea party and a dinner celebration with his children and grandchildren.

You wonder how some people can remember all the stories they do and forget that they've told them before.

Frost Nips Almost All of Dixie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Frosty weather nipped most of Dixie today as temperatures dipped to new lows for the season in many sections.

The chilly air spread northward from the snow-covered sections of the Northeast and the cold belt in the northern Midwest into Virginia, the Carolinas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, Alabama, near freezing weather extended into sections of northern Florida.

The cold air in the Southland was part of the huge mass of frigid air which covered most of the eastern half of the nation.

The 22 reading in Richmond, Va., Greensboro, N.C., and Louisville, Ky., was only a couple of degrees warmer than Anchorage, Alaska.

In Florida, Tallahassee shivered in near-freezing temperatures with the mercury at 34. Miami's low was 58 after Wednesday's high in the 70s.

But the coolest weather again was in the northern Midwest, with readings around zero from northern Montana into northern Minnesota.

The storms which piled snow up to 18 inches in parts of the Northeast tapered off to flurries during the night. In the Midwest, a belt of freezing rain and drizzle extended from Wisconsin into central South Dakota.

Welfare Change

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Welfare Department said Wednesday a change may be made in the method of giving a $5 monthly drug allowance to welfare clients. Commissioner Carl Adams said instead of making a direct payment to a pharmacy or clinic the money may be included in aged and blind welfare recipients' checks each month. The proposal is subject to federal approval.

Town Quiet After Racial Disorders

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP) — An uneasy quiet settled over this southern Mississippi railroad town after a gang of white youths attacked five Negroes at a bus station.

One city official, who asked to remain anonymous, said he expects federal marshals to be sent in—as they were after racial disorders at Montgomery, Ala.—if another outbreak of violence occurs.

The FBI already has been asked to investigate the attack.

McComb has become a center of racial disturbances in strongly pro-segregationist Mississippi since the "Freedom Rider" campaign waged in Jackson, the state capital.

Nearly 100 Negro pupils were dismissed from McComb's Berglund High School earlier this fall after they repeatedly demonstrated against segregation practices.

The five Negroes, all members of the Congress of Racial Equality, left McComb late Wednesday night under heavy police protection. They arrived in New Orleans without incident.

Allied Envoys to Test Talks Leaving Meet

By DORIAN FALK
GENEVA (AP) — The top American and British delegates at the nuclear test ban talks have decided to return home Friday but will leave their deputies to continue the deadlocked conference.

Arthur H. Dean of the United States and British Minister of State Joseph Golder came to today's third session of the resumed talks with their minds made up that nothing could be gained by their continued presence.

Officially, Dean is returning to Washington for consultations with the government on the Soviet rejection of any kind of international control machinery.

Golder is returning to New York to resume his post as head of the British delegation at the U.N. Assembly.

The Western side believes the Soviet Union has eliminated any prospect for a disarmament agreement at this time by rejecting the location on its territory of any international machinery to control nuclear weapons testing.

Neither American nor British officials would say that the Western delegates' departure resulted from a conviction that the three-year-old negotiations are now doomed to failure in their present form.

The deputies, Charles C. Stiff of the United States and Sir Michael Wright of Britain, are to continue meeting Russia's Semyon K. Tsarapkin for the time being.

But as Tsarapkin refuses to discuss controls, and the West refuses to discuss a test ban without controls, the prospects of compromise appear nil.

The talks resumed Tuesday after a nine-week recess caused by the Soviet breach of the East-West nuclear testing truce.

Western officials said the new deadlock, at least underlined that the Soviet Union now regards all Western demands for international control and inspection as incompatible with its own security.

Champion Steer Brings $14 Pound

CHICAGO (AP) — The grand champion steer of the International Live Stock Exposition was auctioned off at $14 a pound today.

The Aberdeen-Angus senior bull, shown by Iowa State University, Ames, was purchased by the Stock Yards Packing Co., Chicago meat purveyors.

Based on its weight of 930 pounds when it was named grand champion Monday, the first prize steer stood to bring the Iowa school a total of $13,020.

The record price for a grand champion steer at the International is $30 a pound, paid in 1957.

Last year's grand champion shown by a 15-year-old 4-H Club girl, Kaye Pollock of Mount Auburn, Iowa, brought $18 a pound and a total of $17,690.

Says Welfare Trend Has Federal Help

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State
Welfare Commissioner Carl
Adams said today there is a danger of the United States "slipping into a welfare state."

Adams said the federal government is encouraging a trend toward a welfare state with controls it puts on dispensation of welfare grants.

He made the comments shortly before he addressed the Arkansas
Association of Public Welfare Workers, which opened a two-day convention here today.

Adams said the federal government pretty well controls the program since it puts up about two-thirds of the money for it.

He said he hoped both national and state legislators would continue to try to improve the lot of the needy.

"But I hope they will not support the non-essential part of the program," he said.

Arkansas, he said, has never made a survey to determine how many potentially self-supporting clients the state has on the welfare rolls but declared that "this is a thing, we have to continually be on the lookout for."

And he said there is a limit to how much the status of welfare clients should be improved.
Adams said.

"Their living conditions should not be made better than those of working people," he said.

Rep. Wilbur Mills of Kensett speaks later today.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who frequently has been critical of certain aspects of the welfare program, speaks at a banquet tonight.

tem the only guarantee against the violation of a disarmament agreement between nations who cannot and will not trust each other. This view has the support of all Western nations and a majority of the nonaligned countries of the world.

As the three-power talks resumed in Geneva, the Kremlin put forward a new plan for a nuclear test ban without any international controls at all. The West rejected it.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K.
Tsarapkin told Arthur H. Dean of the United States and British Minister of State Joseph Godber that in the present period of East-West tension and crisis, the Western insistence on controls was a pretext for Western military espionage and was out of date because of advances in methods of detecting nuclear explosions from abroad.

Tsarapkin said the Soviet government was not willing even to discuss a Western draft treaty for a controlled nuclear test ban.

He stressed that the Soviet Union had returned to the Geneva talks only because an earlier American-Soviet agreement in New York opened the way to East-West negotiations on general and complete disarmament and demanded that the nuclear test issue be transferred to the future disarmament negotiations.

The West has steadily opposed merging the test ban issue with disarmament. But if the Soviets maintain their refusal to discuss a controlled test ban on tests outside the disarmament framework, the West may have no alternative.

Dean Wednesday asked whether the Soviets would accept the test ban controls if they were introduced again in the general disarmament discussions.

Some Western officials hoped Tsarapkin would give a reply today. But the Soviet delegate told newsmen he was not prepared to discuss anything except the Soviet plan rejected by the West.

Highway Building Understanding

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A. C.
Taylor, regional engineer for the federal Bureau of Public Roads, Forth Worth, Tex., told the Arkansas Highway Users Conference here Wednesday night understanding is needed in cases of fraud in the federal interstate highway program.

But Taylor added it would be miraculous if occasional careles-ness or mishandling of funds did not creep into a program as large as the interstate system.

He said the huge system is costing 4 cents per vehicle mile compared to 7 cents for primary roads and 1.2 cents for secondary highways.

Bus Strike New York Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — City officials continued efforts to settle the contract dispute between the Transport Workers Union and the seven private bus companies serving the city ahead of a threatened midnight strike.

The strike threat does not involve the city-owned subways and bus lines operated by the Transit Authority.

The union has demanded a 32-hour, four-day week to replace the present 40-hour, five-day week, a 15 per cent across-the-board wage increase and other benefits. Present pay ranges from $2.46 to $2.57
an hour.

The city government has promised financial assistance to the bus companies if they reach a settlement with the union.

Says State Lacks Food for Plants

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — A visiting executive of a processing company says he doesn't think Arkansas grows enough food for the processing plants it has.

And, according to J. O. Tankersley of Bells, Tenn. the state has fewer such plants than it had a few years back.

Tankersley, connected with the Winter Garden Freezer Co., is one of a score of executives from Arkansas and other states who have arrived at Winthrop Rockefeller's nearby estate for an agricultural conference sponsored by the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

The meeting started today, but Tankersley expressed some of his views in a pre-conference interview.

"You don't grow enough stuff
for the processing plants you have," Tankersley said.

And he added that "twenty years ago Arkansas had two to three times as many canning plants as you have today. Why?"

Tankersley said that for five years his company had a plant for processing strawberries at Monette.

"Then hand labor moved out of the area and over into nearby sections where farming was becoming mechanized. They stopped planting strawberries so we closed
the plant."

Phone Firm Wants to Borrow Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Ritter Telephone Co. of Marked Tree
today asked the Public Service Commission for authority to borrow $900,000 to improve its service to Marked Tree, Lepanto, Tyronza, Keiser and nearby areas.
A hearing on the application was set for 1:30 p.m. Dec. 11.

Red Envoy Walks Out on Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — The Soviet
ambassador to the United Nations walked out of a humanitarian award dinner Wednesday night
after Vice President Lyndon B.
Johnson warned the Soviet Union against any attack on Europe.

The ambassador, Valerian A.
Zorin, left the dais just after Johnson said "any Soviet attack on Europe would be a most hazardous enterprise."

Zorin's walkout was joined by Luka Kizya, the Ukrainian representative, and Yordan Tchobanov, Bulgaria's ambassador to the U.N., and their wives. The ambassadors of Poland and Yugoslavia did not join Zorin in leaving.

Zorin refused to talk to newsmen in the Hotel Astor ballroom, where 800 guests were assembled to honor Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S.
ambassador to the U.N.

Later, at Soviet U.N. mission headquarters, Zorin accused Johnson of "embarrassing" him and making "political" remarks, adding: "At a dinner of a humanitarian function such a statement was out of place."

After the dinner Johnson, asked for comment, replied: "It's a speech, a speech."

Continued Zorin: "From what I heard and saw, Mr. Johnson began accusing the U.S.S.R. in some expansionist aspirations and actions which I, as the representative of the Soviet Union, cannot listen to from any quarter, including Vice President Johnson."

Johnson, who read his speech, had called attention to the build-up of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and said:

"Its forces have steadily expanded in numbers and efficiency.
Any Soviet attack on Europe would be a most hazardous enterprise. The principal base of Western power outside the U.S. is vastly more secure."

Zorin said that he had no opportunity to reply at once to Johnson.

"If it were a political discussion or a meeting," Zorin said,
"I would do so."

"I am sorry to have interrupted such a fine dinner," Zorin added.
"There was nothing else I could do under the circumstances."

Johnson did not appear to have noticed that Zorin left the table.
Stevenson, who was honored with Medico's "World Humanitarian Award," said he had no comment on Zorin's walkout.

Medico cited Stevenson as an "ambassador extraordinary whose deep concern for the liberty and dignity of mankind reflects the highest American ideals and inspires all men." The award consists of a crystal bowl set in a box with a silver plaque.

Medico is a non-profit organization founded by Dr. Peter D.
Comanduras and the late Dr. Tom Dooley which sends American volunteer doctors and nurses throughout the free world. A Medico spokesman said the annual award need not be to a person in the medical field.

Foundry Firms Form a Pact

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A New York foundry company announced signing of an agreement Wednesday to distribute and market a crane safety device produced here.
The device, known as the Saf-T-Boom, is an insulated cage attached to the end of a boom on cranes used for moving dirt or heavy equipment.

It is designed to protect the operator in the event the crane comes into contact with high power lines.

American Machine and Foundry Co. of New York will distribute the outfit produced in Little Rock by the Saf-T-Boom Corp.

Several states, including Arkansas, require such safety devices.

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Funeral for Chancellor George O.
Patterson, 59, of Clarksville, who died Wednesday, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church here. Burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

Senator Speaks

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sen.
J. W. Fulbright, continuing in his bid for re-election, told a Nashville civic club Wednesday night
the state has a wide political investment in retaining its congressmen having seniority. Fulbright said that while the state has only one tenth the national population it holds four major Congressional hairmanship through seniority.

HERE'S WHERE YOU GET THE GOOD WORD ABOUT THE '62 JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET

Jet-smooth ride 542 front fender undershirts

rich new interiors 543

Jet-smooth ride, n. 1. The cloud-9 feeling of comfort that people in Chevrolets enjoy wherever they go. 2. A supple Full Coil spring flexing at each wheel of a Chevrolet to absorb road shock. These are teamed with over 700 noise and vibration filters throughout the automobile to help eliminate the noise and vibration ordinarily transmitted by metal-to-metal contact. The total effect is a ride of supreme quiet and smoothness. 3. The reason why so many Chevrolet-owning families leave home ever so happily. 4. A habit-forming pleasure for which no cure is known, wanted or sought.

new V8-skedaddle, n. 1. The result of touching an accelerator that's linked to one of Chevrolet's new V8 engines (also known as "six-skedaddle" when engine is Chevrolet's trusty 135-hp. Six). 2. The moving power of Chevrolet's 1962 V8 engines. There are five of them, ranging from a standard 170-hp. version up to an optional-at-extra-cost 409-hp. powerhouse.

Body by Fisher craftsmanship, n. 1. The closest that a body manufacturer has come to the care and skill of the jewelry maker. 2. The art and science of forming metal into the strong, solid body structure of the 1962 Chevrolet. 3. Something you won't find in any other car in Chevrolet's field.

deep-well trunk, n. 1. The giant warehouse built into the rear of a 1962 Chevrolet. 2. A trunk that loads at the bumper level and has a capacity of 29.7 cubic feet. It is built with an extra-deep recess in its floor so that it can easily accept odd-shaped outside objects.

comfort-high seats, n. Thought by many to be the most comfortable things to happen to the bottom side of the human lap since dad's overstuffed armchair.

front fender undershirts, n. 1. Sturdy steel linings that are under the front fenders of 1962 Chevrolets to add extra protection against flying stones, mud, slush, road salt and that old bugaboo, corrosion. 2. One of many ways the Chevrolet is built to stay beautiful.

rich new interiors, n. One of the principal reasons why people step into the 1962 Chevrolets and promptly feel luxurious all over.

One-Stop Shopping Center, n. 1. Where people go to get the most car for their money and get exactly the kind of car they want. 2. A concentration point for the 33 cars Chevrolet offers for 1962. These come in three lines: The elegant new Jet-smooth Chevrolet, the new-size Chevy II, the sporty new Corvair, and the new Corvette, with new refinements, new V8 power. 3. Where '62 values are way up but prices are the same—or less—on comparably equipped models. 4. The place where you enter a new world of worth in automobiles. 5. Where most Americans go for a pleasant, instant cure the moment the new-car bug bites them.

See the '62 Chevrolet at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's One-Stop Shopping Center.

DOROTHY DIX

Prayers Are Answered

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: It was with humility and gratitude that I saw my letter in a recent column of yours; humility that you considered it worthy and gratitude that, in a strange way, God had answered my prayers to reach those in trouble.

As we stand beside the bedside of our son who struggles between life and death we are filled with an overwhelming desire to help alleviate the sufferings of others. We have a renewal of hope as we observe movements in the right direction. Your column, for example, the desire for unity within Christianity; within Catholicism a great cognizance and devotion to the Mother of God; in Alcoholics Anonymous the brotherhood of man; in Jehovah's Witnesses, a new look at the Commandments; and in Moral Re-orientation something which says, "This is our weapon."

In all these various movements we recognize the same quality: the desire to do good and we say, "This is Christianity in action." God bless you! Mrs. Irene Gaukler, 453 Philadelphia St., Chino, Calif.

Enclosed with Mrs. Gaukler's letter were two little illuminated text cards. I particularly liked this one: "God grant me the Serenity to accept the things I cannot change, Courage to change the things I can and Wisdom to know the difference."

Dear Helen: May I offer a few words to "Trying To Do Good," the woman whose mother, though having suffered a stroke, still insisted on doing for herself.

I appreciate the mother's feelings. Those of us who are victims of such a malady lash out at loved ones. It's a constant struggle for me to keep from being bitter and irritable toward my family. Perversely, I go against all they want me to do. So I say, have patience. It is the illness, not the patient speaking.

Mrs. Betty Lou Walters

Miss Betty Lou Walters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Walters of Pine Bluff, became the bride of Jerry Don Byers, son of Judge and Mrs. Orie O. Byers of Hope, at 2:30 p. m., Nov. 23 in the Walters home. The Rev. Robert L. Smith, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin, waltz-length gown with matching accessories and carried a white Bible topped with white orchids.

The ceremony was performed in front of the fireplace flanked with baskets of white gladioli. The mantle was decorated with white stocks and carnations.

A program of nuptial music was presented by pianist Mrs. Jack Brown of Hope, aunt of the bride. Miss Betty Scoggins of Newport was the maid of honor, and Jimmy Byers of Hope served his brother as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the home. Pink and white bridal decorations were used. The long dining table overlaid with a white cutwork cloth, was centered with a large floral arrangement of stock and mums.

For her daughter's wedding and reception Mrs. Walters wore a beige sheath with brown accessories. Mrs. Byers, mother of the groom wore a floral blue silk with black accessories. Each had an orchid corsage.

The house party included Misses Carolyn Waymack, Gayle Hanna, Linda Corse, Marilyn Bolton, Carolyn Warriner, Mrs. H. W. Corse and Mrs. H. C. Bottom all of Pine Bluff.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Orie Byers, Sandra Byers, W. C. Byers, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Byers, Donna and Randy, Jimmy Byers, Mrs. Jack Brown and Ronnie, Jerry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bohannon, all of Hope; Mrs. J. C. Walters of Fulton; Miss Deanna Vandergriff of El Dorado and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones of Camden.

For her wedding trip the bride chose a blue flannel suit with black accessories and pinned her orchid at her shoulder. After a short trip to New Orleans and other points through Louisiana, the couple will be at home in Port Arthur, Texas.

Bargains at Supermarkets Are Listed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef, lamb and pork are leading bargains at the nation's supermarkets this week.

Housewives will have a wide choice of meats at good values this weekend, based on the advertising plans of the big chains and the weekly U.S. Department of Agriculture survey.

Heavy marketings of hogs and cattle due to expanded production is producing a good retail supply of beef, lamb and pork.

Markets in all sections of the country are featuring the three meats this weekend. One of the largest supermarket chains will have an all-beef special with price reductions in some areas of 10 cents a pound on such items as rib roast, sirloin and porterhouse steaks.

Bacon, ham and veal also are on the special counter in some areas.

Among sea food features are clams and halibut in the North, east, crab meat and sea trout in the Southeast, yellow perch in the Midwest, red snapper in the Southwest and Salmon and halibut in the Far West.

Egg prices appear to be declining. Large eggs are selling at the lowest level in five months. One chain posted reductions of 2 to 3 cents a dozen on various grades and size eggs in the metropolitan New York area.

Best buys in vegetables are cabbage, onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, green beans, carrots, celery, lettuce, squash and tomatoes. Others recommended include broccoli and brussels sprouts, mushrooms, green beans, squash, peppers and radishes.

Among fruits in good supply are apples, oranges, grapefruit, pears and in some areas tangerines, bananas, grapes and lemons.

Offers Reward for Dog Poisoner

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Residents of the Roland area, north of here, have offered a $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the person responsible for the deaths of 30 dogs.

The sheriff's office said most of the poisoned dogs belonged to residents living along a road from Roland to Lake Maumelle.

Dr. David Ilsen, state veterinarian said an examination showed the dogs died of strychnine poisoning. A similar report came from the state Livestock Sanitary Board which examined one dog.

Officers said the poison had been placed either in hamburger meat or candy.

$30,000 Asked in Lawsuit

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A New York finance company, James Talcott, Inc., filed suit Tuesday seeking $30,000 judgment against R. C. Limerick Jr., former president of the bankrupt Kern-Limerick Inc. of Little Rock. The suit contends the amount is the balance due on three contracts the defunct firm signed. The company declared bankruptcy in 1960.

Many fashion experts say the current style puts hemlines just below the kneecap. A few fashion houses draw the line at mid-knee, and no higher.

The 1960 peach crop was worth nearly four million dollars to Arkansas growers.

One Network Showed Only Specials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If you stayed with NBC Wednesday evening, you visited a Manhattan "twist" joint, joined a Billy Graham crusade, heard Paul Anka sing A. E. Housman poetry and Doug Fairbanks Jr. read the preamble of the U. S. Constitution.

That's the kind of a night it was on NBC, with three-hour-long specials one after the other. It was a long evening for constant viewer.

Taking up the program in reverse chronology, "The World of Billy Graham" showed a lot of film of the evangelist and his efficient team in action, but never fulfilled the promise of digging below the surface.

The "intimate glimpses" had a self-conscious staged air about them—and never once did we get a glimpse of the man behind the mellow voice and the flashing eye.

Perry Como's Roncom Production Co. obviously has the idea of selling an updated, TV version of "We the People" as a separate program and used Perry's variety hour to showcase a sample. It was an odd hodge podge of short features—including the aforementioned twist and Anka bits, a live parachute drop and—you won't believe it—a visit to the Museum of Modern Art in New York to hear a clarinet player improvise his reactions to the paintings.

Finally, there was a history of Hollywood from its beginnings to the arrival of sound—"The Golden Years." The old film clips would have been more amusing if there had not been a lot of the same thing on TV recently, notably ABC's very good "Silents Please."

Girl Found Dead

RISON, Ark. (AP) — Nettie Pearl McDaniel, 17, of near Rison, was found shot to death in her home Saturday and State Trooper Otis Hensley said a shotgun was found beside the body. Coroner Rufus T. Buie said he had not made a formal ruling on the death.

MUTUAL ADMIRATION—Even a horse recognizes a champion as this one proved nudging up to Mickey Mantle. The New York Yankees' slugging center fielder was a very popular guest at the Huntsville, Tex., Prison Rodeo.

Shreveport to Pull Out of Double A

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Shreveport will pull out of the double-A Southern Association today, according to Bonneau Peters, managing partner of the Northwest Louisiana city's baseball franchise.

Peers, attending the annual minor league winter convention at Tampa, Fla., advised the Shreveport Journal that he was unable to secure a satisfactory major league working agreement.

He hinted that Mobile, Ala., will also withdraw, Birmingham withdrew Wednesday.

According to Peters, the Southern Association will operate with six teams. The Detroit Tigers are shifting their farm from Birmingham to Nashville. Macon expects aid from the Boston Red Sox.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are moving the Atlanta franchise to Evansville, Ind. The Minnesota Twins will operate a farm at Columbus, Ga. Little Rock is affiliated with Baltimore and Chattanooga is in the Philadelphia Phillies' farm system.

Maintenance Is Highway Subject

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Highway officials from 12 southeastern states were reminded today that cost of the federal interstate system will not end when roadbuilding is completed in 1972.

Maintenance expenses on the interstate system was a principal topic of discussion at the annual convention of the Southeastern Association of State Highway Officials.

Maintenance engineers from several states predicted upkeep will run from $7,000 to $9,000 a mile each year with some stretches going as high as $10,000.

E. E. Hurley of the Arkansas Highway Department said it is costing $5,000 a mile to keep interstate 30 between Little Rock and Benton in good repair.

R. B. Winfrey, AHD maintenance engineer, said it was impossible at this time to predict what total annual maintenance costs will be when all 500 miles of the Arkansas interstate system are in use.

Senator Hides From Congolese

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — U.S. Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., crouched on the floor of the American consul's automobile Tuesday night as the driver sped through an angry mob of Katanga paratroopers. The paratroopers earlier had dragged two white U.N. officials from a dinner party and beat them with rifle butts.

Anti-U.N. violence mounted in the Katanga capital in the wake of the U.N. Security Council resolution authorizing U.N. troops to use force to arrest foreign mercenaries serving Katanga President Moise Tshombe's secessionist regime.

Dodd, guest of honor at a dinner party given by an American, arrived with Consul Louis Hoffacker as the paratroopers were beating the two U.N. officials, a Briton and an Australian.

Hoffacker rescued the Australian, put him and Dodd on the floor of the car and drove them to the home of Tshombe, whom Dodd has praised in Senate speeches. Tshombe's personal guard finally secured the Briton's release.

Minors Adopt New Rule on Bonuses

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The minor leagues adopted a new rule today designed to curb big bonus payments to inexperienced baseball players.

The expected controversy did not develop on the floor of the National Association (minors) convention.

When president George Trautman called for a vote there was only one negative ballot. That was cast by the Florida State League.

A three fourth vote of the 22 leagues represented was required for approval.

No amendments were offered to the new law, drawn up by

Boyer Out as Porks Open Cage Season

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks basketball squad is expected to open its season Friday night with Kansas without the services of starting forward Tommy Boyer.

Boyer, a 6-6 letterman from Fort Smith, was injured in Tuesday's practice when he collided with another porker. He suffered a broken nose and a gashed forehead.

The game at Lawrence, Kan., will mark the start of Coach Glen Rose's 19th year at Arkansas.

Navy Coach Trapped by Own System

By GEORGE BOWEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Coach Wayne Hardin of Navy is trapped in a three-team football system he started out of necessity and he's not sure whether he'll stick to it next year.

He is certain to employ it against Army Saturday in Philadelphia.

"The system got us in it and it's going to have to get us out," he said.

Hardin decided last spring that with a lot of sophomores he couldn't fashion two teams to play both offense and defense and depend on them.

So he took the 11 top all-round players and made them his "two-way" eleven. Another group specialized on defense and still another on offense.

When the two-way team needed a rest, either the offensive or defensive team went in depending on whether Navy had the ball or the opposition.

Hardin felt it was easier to teach his youngsters just one phase of the game until they gained experience. When they did, he had planned to consolidate them into two elevens as in the past.

But as each team practiced more at its specialty, Hardin discovered they became so good at it he couldn't change.

Royals Hope to Beat Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals hope to chase Los Angeles in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association, tonight encounter basketball's biggest obstacle—the Boston Celtics—in their quest to close the gap.

The Royals lost a half game in the standings to the idle Lakers Wednesday night, falling to Syracuse 130-122 in the league's only game, and now trail Western leader Los Angeles by 3½ games.

Their game with the Celtics at Providence, R.I., tonight is the only game scheduled. The Celtics, shooting for their fourth straight league title, have a 14-2 record and a commanding lead in the Eastern Division.

Baylor Accepts Gotham Bid

NEW YORK (AP)—New York finally has a bowl game. It's the Gotham Bowl, to be played in the Polo Grounds Dec. 9.

Opponents for the game—originally planned as a contest of major Eastern teams—are Utah State and Baylor. The game was finalized Wednesday when Baylor accepted an invitation.

Utah State must rank with the best in the nation. It owns a 9-0 record, is third in the country in total offense and second in total defense. Baylor has only a 5-4 record with one game to go, but owns one of the nation's best backs in Ronnie Bull.

Rhubarb in Canada Over Title Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

TORONTO (AP)—A rhubarb over fight officials broke out anew today as talk of the heavyweight championship bout between Floyd Patterson and challenger Tom McNeely edged slightly into the big fuss hereabouts over the Grey Cup football classic Saturday.

Most of the fans in this sports-mad town had been arguing over nothing but Wednesday night's Montreal-Toronto hockey game and the break up encounter between Winnipeg and Hamilton for the Canadian pro football title. The Grey Cup game stirs this town like a combination of Louisville on Derby week and Philadelphia on the eve of the Army-Navy game.

Canada's first world heavyweight championship fight almost had been overlooked until Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, and Merv McKenzie, Ontario athletic commissioner, Wednesday wrangled over an alleged agreement to use non-Canadian judges. D'Amato shouted that McKenzie had okayed a contract approved last Oct. 16 calling for the employment of outside judges. McKenzie firmly replied he had done no such thing.

D'Amato said the fight would go on even if Canadian judges were employed. But he said today he planned to appeal to a higher authority. The manager said since McKenzie, the sole commissioner, is under the Canadian minister of labor, he would go and see him.

McKenzie already has hired a non-Canadian referee—former heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J. It was difficult for those close to the scene to imagine why there would be so much concern over judges. Even Patterson and McNeely agreed that only a referee able to count to ten will be necessary. Patterson is a 10-1 favorite to win and the odds on a knockout probably would be prohibitive.

Seivers Sent to the Phillies

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The Chicago White Sox of the American League sent first baseman Roy Seivers to the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League today in exchange for Charley Smith, a third baseman, and pitcher John Buzhardt.

It was the second interleague trade by the Chicago team in two weeks. Monday it obtained Joe Cunningham outfielder first baseman from the St. Louis Cardinals for Muncie Minoso, veteran slugger outfielder.

Spring Hill Gets 2 Over Saratoga

Tuesday night Spring Hill and Saratoga basketball teams got together with Spring Hill taking two of the three games.

Gary Kidd with 19 led Spring Hill Junior boys to a 39 to 16 victory. Trece tallied seven for Saratoga. The Spring Hill senior boys had a fairly easy victory, 59 to 39. Ronnie Garner and Clinton Kidd each had 16 points for the winners. Saratoga's Chism tallied 13 points.

The Saratoga girls blasted the Spring Hill girls 25 to 16 with Rosemary Belt tossing in 12 tallies. Janice Hatch made eight for the losers.

No Baseball in 1962 in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Birmingham, a charter member of the Southern Association when it was formed in 1901, will be without professional baseball next year for the first time in 61 years.

Baron owner Albert Belcher withdrew the team from the Double A League Wednesday.

Belcher gave the city's segregation ordinances as the reason. "I never regretted anything so much in my life," he said Wednesday night after returning from the minor league meeting at Tampa, Fla. "But I felt there was nothing else I could do."

"Due to circumstances beyond my control," Belcher told league directors, "the Barons will be unable to play in Birmingham this year, and for as long as the segregation ordinance is on the books."

A federal judge last August knocked down the ordinance requiring segregation in various sporting events—including baseball—but the city is appealing.

Asked about Rickwood Field, the Barons' home park, Belcher replied: "I'm just going to let it sit there for the time being. It will just lie there vacant. There's not any money owed on it."

Belcher and members of his family own about 80 per cent of the stock in the club.

Belcher will retain the baseball franchise here on an inactive basis.

Rites for Former Baseball Player

MONROE, La. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here Thursday for Robert G. Harmon, 74, former professional baseball player and later a planter and dairyman in Ouachita Parish. He died Monday night.

Harmon started with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1909 and in 1911 he posted his best showing with a 23-16 record. After five years with the Cardinals he was traded to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Over a nine-year major league span he won 107 games and lost 133.

He was a past president of the Federal Land Bank Association and a past president of the Louisiana Dairyman's Association.

Siloam Springs Okays Bonds

SILOAM SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A $350,000 bond issue to build a factory for the Franklin Electric Co. of Bluffton, Ind., was approved by the Chicago team in two weeks. Monday it obtained Joe Cunningham outfielder first baseman from the St. Louis Cardinals for Muncie Minoso, veteran slugger outfielder.

Rental payments will be used to retire the bonds.

Packers May Be Healthy for Giants

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers may be healthy after all when they meet the New York Giants Sunday in a clash of National Football League title contenders.

The Packer roster earlier in the week looked like a sickbay list. Today it shows a mostly healthy football squad—thanks to the rapid recovery of several key players.

As a result, the Packers, leaders in the Western Conference, will go into their final game in Wisconsin as three-point favorites over the Giants, pacesetters of the Eastern Division. The game is expected to draw a record, standing-room-only crowd of more than 46,000 to Milwaukee County Stadium.

Three Packer players, who were out of action in practice sessions earlier this week, returned for work Wednesday and reported they would be ready to go. In addition word was received that the team's leading scorer and ace kicker, halfback Paul Hornung, would be given a pass from his Army duty at Ft. Riley, Kans., and be in action.

And the Packers were given assurance by veteran center Jim Ringo that he also would rejoin the team today.

When Coach Vince Lombardi called the role at practice Monday, he found fullback Jim Taylor and end Max McGee ailing with flu, defensive back Hank Gremminger still nursing injured ribs and Ringo in a hospital with boils on his face and neck.

Taylor, McGee and Gremminger reported for action Wednesday and are expected to be in shape to play.

Facts of Life Around Areas of Arkansas

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Staff Writer

R. J. Pearce of near Warren takes issue with mention in this space last week of "twenty-three for you" as a popular teen-age expression around the turn of the century.

It's not teen-age, Pearce said, but it was a common expression in the first decade of this century, particularly in the north and the correct phrasing is "twenty-three skidoo."

It originated, Pearce said, with a reform movement directed against 23 city council members in Montreal, Canada. Aided, perhaps, by the colorful battle cry, the reformists were successful in shunting the 23 from office, Pearce said.

Now the kids have a battle song in their continuing war against school.

A Little Rock first grader was overheard singing, to the tune of "Battle Hymn of the Republic": "Mine eyes have seen the glory of the burning of the school; 'We have tortured every teacher, we have broken every rule; 'We have poisoned every principal and secretary, too; 'The kids are marching on.' 'Has school got that hard to take?"

While hunters were stalking the woods for deer, Mrs. John Beaver of Camden scored a major kill right in her own back yard.

Mrs. Beaver spotted a chicken hawk in her back yard. She heaved a soft drink bottle at the unsuspecting bird. The bottle kayoed him and Mrs. Beaver beat him to death with a broom.

The Farrell Connors of Batesville almost had two turkeys for Thanksgiving while the Charles Mabrys had none.

The turkeys, purchased at the same time, were stored in the Mabry's freezer. Came Thanksgiving and Mrs. Mabry took one out to deliver to the Connors.

Later, Mabry saw the second bird in the freezer and, thinking of the Connors, took it out and headed for his friends' home.

Fortunately, Mr. and Mrs. Mabry met downtown and discovered that each of them had a turkey in the car for delivery to the Connors.

Quote of the week: W. R. (Witt) Stephens, Little Rock financier and president of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., addressing a meeting in Warren, said, "I love to make money because I think that is the best way to live."

New Technique
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. P. C. Nordlinger, a Little Rock dentist, says he has developed a new technique for putting gold crowns on damaged teeth so that most damaged teeth could be saved. He said he would demonstrate the new technique at the Chicago Dental Clinic in February.

Slurred speech, radioisotopes in medicine, overweight children and new views on shaving figure in the medical news:

Mumbo Jumbo
You may be no spellbinder when you sound off your views, but are you sure you're even being understood?

The American Medical Association says millions of people are more or less handicapped in their everyday affairs because of slurred speech, mumbling or of swallowing word endings. These people leave the impression they are careless or lack self-confidence.

The AMA gives this tip for testing your enunciation: Ask a few relatives or trusted friends if they understand your speech at all times. Or ask yourself: "How often does someone ask me to repeat a word, phrase or sentence?"

Versatile Atom
The atom is fast approaching early maturity in the field of diagnostic medicine.

Hundreds of medical institutions are using radioisotopes in medicine and the demand is growing.

Nuclear Chicago Corp., a producer of atomic products and equipment, has started issuing informative bulletins that can be used in training programs for medical students and doctors.

The first bulletin deals with the evaluation of thyroid function. Others are planned detailing how radioisotopes can be used in kidney function studies, diagnosis of pernicious anemia and blood volume determinations.

Slim Example
One of the best ways parents can induce an overweight child to lose weight is to set a proper example, a medical study in London indicates.

The study project, reported in World-Wide Abstracts of General Medicine, dealt with 100 overweight children between the ages of 7 and 14. Of the group, 74 had either one or both parents overweight.

Cookies 'N Bows

Crisp cereal cookies tied with red bows make gay decorations for Christmas trees. Children, especially, enjoy a cookie trimmed tree. Wrap the cookies in saran if they are to be on the tree for a long time. The ingredient use of the corn flakes in this recipe makes the cookies unusually crisp and crunchy. Breakfast cereals make contributions of protein, B vitamins, and minerals when used in cooking.

Corn Flake Christmas Tree Cookies

1 1/2 cups butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1 egg, beaten

2 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups corn flakes, finely crushed
Ornamental icing
Decorating candies and colored sugars
Narrow ribbon

Cream butter or margarine and sugar together well. Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Combine milk, egg, and vanilla. Add flour mixture and liquids alternately to creamed butter or margarine and sugar. Mix well. Stir in corn flakes. Roll 1/2 of the dough at a time to 1/4-inch thickness on a lightly floured pastry cloth or board. Cut with floured Christmas cookie cutters. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Use a toothpick or skewer to make a hole through cookie dough 1/4 inch from top and in center of cookie. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Remove from cookie sheet and cool thoroughly on a flat surface. Decorate tops of cookies with ornamental icing and appropriate decorating candies and colored sugars. Cut ribbon into 8-inch lengths. Thread ribbon through hole in top of cookie and tie to Christmas tree. Yield: 4 1/2 to 5 dozen cookies.

U. S. Silver Sales to Be Halted

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The silver certificate, a familiar item of currency since 1878, will disappear from circulation if Congress approves President Kennedy's new silver policy.

All $1 and $2 bills are silver certificates, as are some $5 and $10 bills. All of these would be discarded during the next 20 or 30 years, to be replaced by Federal Reserve notes which are backed by gold.

While Congress would have to approve this part of the Kennedy plan, the President ordered Tuesday an immediate end to Treasury sales of silver at artificially low prices.

This will lead at once to an increase in the market price of silver, which perhaps will rise from the old pegged rate of 91.5 cents an ounce to $1 or more. As a side result, manufacturers are likely to increase prices on jewelry, silverware, photographic film and other items with a high silver content.

The Kennedy program would represent the most important national change in silver in many decades. In effect, the President wants to end silver's status as an important monetary metal and make it a freely traded commodity, like copper or soybeans.

The program, drafted at the Treasury, also would end the recurrent and often bitter political battles over silver. The metal would have no more political appeal, under the new plan, than any other mining product.

Kennedy's decision stemmed from a steady decline in the Treasury's supply of "free silver" not needed for currency backing. This supply dropped from 123.5 million ounces as of last Monday night.

The stockpile of free silver has declined because of purchases by silver users at the Treasury's sale price of 91.5 cents an ounce and because of silver withdrawn for use in coins.

Kennedy directed the Treasury to stop using the stockpile as a source of supply for coinmaking. He said that henceforth silver needed by the mints should be withdrawn from monetary reserves, with an equivalent amount of silver certificates pulled out of circulation at the same time.

Substitute Where It Is Needed

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP)—Somewhere in the northern Congo a naive student of the local white missionary reads from his new Bible the 22nd verse of the 16th chapter of St. John:

"So you have sorrow now," the Lord is saying, "But I will see you again and your livers will rejoice."

And in Matthew 12:34, "These people honor me with their mouths, but their livers are far from me." Again, in John 14:1, "Let not your liver be troubled."

Substituting liver for heart in Holy Writ may seem odd, or even sacrilegious, but to the Rev. Dr. Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translations of the American Bible Society, it's merely another technique of producing the scriptures in the only language a man may understand.

"English-speaking people talk about the emotional focus of the personality as the heart," Dr. Nida explained, "but this is by no means a universal situation."

"In fact, the Chujos of Guatemala speak of it as the abdomen, the Marshallese speak of it as the throat, and in some contexts the Totonacs of Mexico may speak of it as the spleen. In several of the Sudanic languages of the Congo, it's the liver."

Dr. Nida is in the United States briefly before continuing his linguistic trouble shooting in remote parts of Mexico, the Philippines, Ecuador and West Africa, to name only a few countries he has scheduled on next year's itinerary.

Since joining the Bible Society in 1943, after receiving his doctorate in linguistics from the University of Michigan, he has visited at least 60 countries, helped with various Bible translation problems in more than 130 languages ("But that doesn't mean I speak them all") for missionaries of about 100 Protestant denominations and organizations.

His job is to help translators over such hurdles as the liver and heart problem of the Congolese, and his vast experience is of as much value as his formal linguistic training.

well as the dead outer layers, Dr. Mescon said. "But this doesn't mean that shaving is harmful. It may stimulate the growth of new skin and in this way can be beneficial. To date, there's no proof that any one method (blade or electric razor) is best for all skins."

Income Tax Returns in South Up

ATLANTA (AP) — The number of federal income tax returns filed in the South in the 1950s rose by 3,308,000 and the increase was greater than in any other region, the U.S. Department of Commerce said today.

At the end of the 1950-59 period, 15,805,721 persons in Southern states and the District of Columbia were filing federal returns, compared with 12,497,620 at the start of the period.

The figures were for Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Tennessee, the Carolinas, Virginia, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas and the District of Columbia.

Several Southern states stand out impressively in rates of increase in returns filed, the department reported. Florida led all states in the country with a rise

Man Hardly Knows What to Believe

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the penalties of middle age is that a man hardly knows what to believe any more.

The quest for certainty gets harder and harder.

As a youth one is taught certain truths and values that are supposed to be enduring and guide you all through life. But as you grow older you find that many things you were taught as facts when you were young are now regarded as errors—or superstitions.

You were taught that a wise man never bought anything until he could pay for it in cash. Now if you aren't in hock up to your ears with a loan company you are regarded as a threat to the national economy.

Many a farmer never planted his crops until the moon was right. Now he never plants at all—unless the wind is right from Washington.

It was patriotic to be patriotic. Now love of country is a sign of nationalism, and nationalism is held to be the greatest obstacle to world peace and unity.

A dancer prided himself on his ability to do a graceful waltz. Now you're a wallflower unless you're willing to get out on the floor, roll your eyes and twist yourself into a pretzel.

A father was a symbol of family authority and the recognized head of the house. Now he's the mousy fellow who comes home once a week with his paycheck in his mouth but isn't supposed to open his yap about how the place is run.

An atom was some kind of a little mystery you read about in your high school physics or chemistry textbook. Now it is a giant that terrifies the whole human race.

Settlement in Berlin Would Help

MOSCOW (AP)—President Kennedy told Soviet editor Alexei Adzhubei in an interview published today that a settlement of the Berlin issue would bring about an immediate improvement in American-Soviet relations in all other fields.

The interview was given by the President to the editor of Izvestia, which printed it in 10 solid columns today.

Taking up the Berlin question at an early point of the interview the President said:

"I think that papers and the words on the paper are not so important to consider as those questions which cause tension between our two systems and to see whether we are able to remove this tension.

"One of these questions is now the question of Germany and Berlin. If we are able to achieve progress in this question then in my opinion this would be an extremely important step in improving our relations in other questions.

"If we are able to achieve an agreement on the cessation of nuclear tests that would bring other agreements on disarmament.

"If we are able successfully to achieve an agreement which would insure peace in Central Europe, if we are able to complete our efforts in Laos and create conditions under which the

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The northeast wing of Gibbs Elementary Negro School here was extensively damaged by a fire Tuesday night but there were no injuries. Asst. Fire Chief Charley Bailey said it was believed the fire started from a defective wall furnace. Classes for today were dismissed until further notice. School officials said they hoped part of the wing's rooms could be used while the damage is repaired.

River Work Bids

government and the country would be neutral and independent, as it was agreed by Chairman (Premier) Khrushchev and myself in Vienna, then we would be able to take up other questions which cause tension.

"Suppose, as I have already said, if we are able now to achieve agreement on a satisfactory basis on Berlin and Germany which form the most critical area, because they represent great interests for both our countries, and cause great concern among our peoples—then we will be able to take other steps.

"If we are able to solve the problem of Germany and Berlin I think we will see a considerable improvement in our relations."

Tangerines—Traditional Holiday Fruit

Tangerines, that cheerful orange-colored fruit that Florida sends us from the end of November through February, is affectionately—and most practically—known as the zipper-skinned fruit. This year's crop from Florida promises much larger fruit than last year—with juicier, firmer flesh. Mothers know the vitamin C content makes tangerines good to include in a child's lunch box for school. Kids know what easy out-of-hand eating they are—just peel and enjoy!

Tangerines are traditionally tucked in the toe of Christmas stockings, and since they're favorites with adults, too, it's a good idea to keep plenty in the family fruit bowl for quick snacks between meals.

In preference to heavy desserts, a platter of tangerines makes a fitting end to a hearty holiday meal. Simply remove all the peel except for a small circle at the base to keep the sections together. Fill the centers with raisin clusters and serve the fruit with a tray of assorted cheeses and crackers.

Besides vitamin C, tangerines are a good source of calcium, so you'll do wisely to serve them frequently during their short winter season in salads, puddings, and with vegetables as well as other fruits.

Try such flavor surprises as folding tangerine sections into rice pudding with whipped cream; making Bavarian cream with tangerines for a new taste treat; brightening banana shortcake with the sections; adding interest to candied sweet potatoes with the juicy segments. For a special dessert or supper dish, dip tangerine sections in sugar and place between two waffles, topping with whipped cream.

Signs Point to Big Yule Business

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—All the early signs point to record Christmas business in most sections of the nation.

So you'd expect most merchants to be happy. But many of them aren't.

In some cases this is because the gains in retail sales over a year ago aren't as fat as they had hoped—and perhaps planned for in their ordering.

Others bemoan the fierce competition and price cutting that has pinched profit margins.

Still others contend that the consumers, while spending more this year than last, haven't loosened their purse strings as much as the record national figures on personal income would seem to justify.

And, of course, some merchant complaining is just a characteristic. Retailers as often as not are downhearted—if the weather has not been bad, the consumer has been lured by some current status symbol to spend his money for things that their stores don't carry.

But the early reports show the shoppers out in force—and many well ahead of the traditional day-after-Thanksgiving start of the Christmas buying season.

Most stores have their biggest selling season now. Since sales in the final weeks of the year are so high a percentage of the year's total, a good or bad yule season can make or break a store's final profit and loss accounting for the year as a whole.

The Commerce Department reported personal income in October rose to a record annual rate of $425 billion. Helping in the $4-billion gain over September were longer work weeks, higher hourly wage scales for many, increasing dividend payments, a gain in total employment.

These latter pocketbooks are what the merchant are counting on tapping between now and Christmas.

Some of the increased buying right now may be due to other things than the Christmas spirit. The delayed onslaught of cold weather in many areas is sending shoppers to the stores belatedly for such things as overcoats, winter suits, blankets.

And consumer confidence appears to be on the mend.

So the prediction of a 5 per cent gain in Christmas retail sales may well come true. Whether that's as big a gain as the population increase and higher incomes would justify, and whether it's enough to

TV Critics Ask Better Quality

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's critics fill the air with cries for better quality. Top network executives talk grandly about their news coverage and documentaries. But fundamentally, the success and failure of television lies in its regular entertainment shows, weekly programs—action, variety, situation comedy, dramatic anthologies—which are the meat-and-potatoes fare of the medium.

Whether the critics like a show or not, whether it is violent or cliché-filled, the final decision whether a bread-and-butter show lives or dies is made by the mass audience, as reported by the various ratings services.

One may quarrel with ratings, deplore the system which permits a mere sampling of viewers to determine whether a program perishes or survives, but it is the only way each bill-paying sponsor has found to let him know how offset the profit squeeze in many lines is a matter of points of view: the view of the merchant, the consumer, or the government.

Start The Day Right

Good Morning! And what day wouldn't be off to a cheery start with a fine beginning at the breakfast table. Even though time is at a premium in the early morning hours, bread-winners and students alike will have a better day's start if they have a few extra minutes to enjoy breakfast.

Although much attention has been given to the nutritional aspects of better breakfasts, too little emphasis is placed on a less significant but common breakfast problem—lack of pleasant table arrangements. Any meal served attractively is more appetizing and tempting than a quick eat-and-run, stand-up snack.

Now on the market is a new type of placemat to help Mrs. Homemaker set a prettier table with a minimum of extra effort. Special feature of these new mats is a latex foam backing which won't slide or mar table surfaces. The mats are a boon to the kitchen clean-up crew, too, because they can be wiped clean with a damp cloth for daily use.

Generously sized 12 1/2" x 18 1/2", the mats are available in a wide variety of patterns and attractive color combinations on a finely embossed, linen-like plastic surface. They can be purchased in the linen departments of department stores, and at fine linen and gift shops.

HOURS TO KILL

THE STORY: Margaret is concerned over the two visits to the house made by Julie, a caretaker. She was afraid of Julie and refused to let him enter on his second visit.

Chapter XVI

Hilary's room, the door open on blowing darkness.

Margaret got the light on, sweeping the wall for the switch with a frantic hand. There across the room was the wide-open window, its unhooked screen swung out from the bottom, summoning in the night—and there in the bed, face screwed up in an injured squint, was Hilary.

Margaret collected a long, bottom-of-the-lungs breath. In silence she walked across the room, hooked the screen, closed the window to within two inches. Still in silence, she turned and gazed at Hilary. Hilary said in an instant and piteous croak, "My throat hurts."

"I don't wonder," said Margaret measuredly. "Are you trying to catch pneumonia?"

"I was hot," said Hilary, in such a subdued and apologetic voice that Margaret glanced more closely at her. No mere fever could work such a change in Hilary, and there was something effacing in the way she had wriggled herself deep into her covers. The room was now very cold, but still—

"You don't let in any more air by opening the screen," said Margaret, thawing a little. Her reaction to a bad fright was receding and Hilary was, after all, fairly sick.

"Can I have some ginger ale?" interrupted Hilary.

So she had opened the screen for some well-thought-out purpose—to dispose of something? Hide something until later, because she knew Margaret would be a frequent visitor in the room during the night and all the next day? Once you got to know her, Margaret reflected wearily, going out to the kitchen for ginger ale, Hilary was really no more difficult to read than Coptic.

At 11 o'clock, she folded another capsule into jam, administered it, took Hilary's temperature, 103 1/2, gave the sheets a last smoothing, turned the pillow, said goodnight, set her alarm for three, and topped in her own bed.

In the morning, there was blood on the porch.

What was there about dried blood that you know it instantly, many people are being exposed to his message. So believe them or not, the ratings will continue to have life & death influence on the medium.

But popularity is not always related closely to quality, freshness or even entertainment value. Sometimes it is a simple matter of position in a network schedule.

For instance, when ABC's "The New Breed," a routine police-action show, started this fall in a 9-10 p.m. spot in the network lineup, it was doing poorly. This was easily explained: it had two powerful rivals: CBS' Red Skelton and NBC's slick, professional "Dick Powell Show." In addition, its "lead-in" (the preceding show on the network) was an extremely weak entry: "Calvin and the Colonel."

A few weeks back, ABC removed the 30-minute cartoon show and shoved up "The New Breed" a half hour. This week, it reported triumphantly that the shift had resulted in almost doubling the audience. The shows were the same—the stars the same—nothing had changed except the time—and the competition.

even if you had only opened the door to see if the milk was there yet? The splattered shape of the stains, perhaps, or the little diminishing trail of drops that led down the uneven steps and disappeared into the grass.

Margaret stared downward for possibly a minute before she did what, later, she was a little agitated at, he went rapidly to the drawer in the kitchen where rags were kept for cleaning, soaked one in cold water, went, almost running, now, back to the porch. The stains came up easily enough, turning the wet cloth a color that she averted her gaze from while, because there mightn't be time to rinse it and wring it out, she kept turning it in on itself to find a fresh surface.

Birds twittered in the new morning, the washed-gold light with its sift of slender branch shadows moved gently over the wet flagstones, turned them damp turned them dry. Margaret went into the house, locked the door behind her, and walked without pausing into the kitchen. Her hand held the blood-stained cloth without feeling, as though she had detached herself from it; she put off, just for the moment, any thought of the hardest soap she could find, the hottest water she could stand.

The kitchen wastebasket was fairly full, and in the little back entry were three emptied milk cartons. Not enough, Margaret took up a pile of folded newspapers and carried everything out to the incinerator behind the garage. It was a new and very good incinerator, reducing everything it burned to fine ash. The wet cloth wouldn't be destroyed at once, but it would dry a good deal, perhaps even char a little, in an initial fire.

At no time did she question what she was doing, or why. Instinct made her move as quickly and surely as though she had rehearsed this a hundred times, and it was not until she had scrubbed her hands under water that made her wince, and caught a glimpse of her set white face in the mirror, that any realization of what she had done began to seep through.

After she went into the kitchen and drank tomato juice, it was time for Hilary's medicine.

Even at a glance, and although she was still quite hot, Hilary was markedly better; her air of prim reproach was back in place. In answer to Margaret's inquiry she swallowed wincingly—her throat was dry because she had had no water to drink, and she had a terrible headache from sleeping with the window shut. She always had her window open.

"Except maybe when you've just had the doctor," returned Margaret mildly. She had seldom been so glad to see anyone.

Negroes Waive Extradition

HUGHES, Ark. (AP)—Two Negroes arrested here Tuesday for questioning in a 1953 slaying in Shelby County, Tennessee, waived their extradition.

Charles Hershel Knowlin, 34, and his sister, Mrs. Ethel Rounds McClatchey, 37, both of near Hughes, were arrested by Police Chief Mack Hill and an FBI agent.

A fugitive warrant had been issued for their arrest in connection with the slaying of Mrs. McClatchey's husband, Adolphus McClatchey.

They had been working on a farm south of here.

Builders May Get Unions Together

By NORMAN WALKER

BAL HARBOUR, Fla. (AP)—Building trades unions fired a return salvo today at their longtime industrial union rivals in the AFL-CIO, but attached a hint of peace bid.

President C. J. (Neil) Haggerty of the AFL-CIO Building and Construction Trades Department submitted a report for the opening session of his department's three-day convention, blaming the industrial unions for labor internal wars.

Only a few weeks ago the industrial unions, headed by Auto Workers chief Walter Reuther, blasted the building trades and demanded a peace plan to submit all inter-union disputes to final and binding arbitration, with the decision enforceable in the courts. Reuther's plan was rejected by the building trades, whose leaders let it be known today they are working on a plan of their own. They gave no details.

It appeared likely that at least two, or perhaps three, disputes settlement plans may be put before the AFL-CIO convention here next week.

Al Hayes, president of the Machinists Union and chairman of an AFL-CIO committee trying to map a solution, announced last weekend that his group "has developed a procedure for final and binding settlement of disputes."

Building trades spokesmen said their camp knew nothing of any agreement by the Hayes committee. In fact, Haggerty's report said the last meeting of the Hayes committee broke up in August with Reuther specifying that "nothing as yet had been agreed upon."

The feud concerns overlapping union work jurisdiction—a fight that has been going on for years

Says U. S. Can't Do It Alone

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Alice Dunnigan of Washington, D. C., said here Tuesday night the federal government cannot end employment discrimination by itself.

But Mrs. Dunnigan, a member of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, told an audience at Philander Smith College for Negroes that one objective of the administration is to end job discrimination.

"The administration will go as far as it can under the laws on the books but the government can't do the job alone," she said.

Negroes comprise only 11 per cent of the national labor force, she said, but 21 per cent of the five million unemployed are Negroes.

but has been made more acute by heavy unemployment in many areas.

Silver Price Certain to Take Jump

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Silver—commonly or a backing for money? And what price silver? Today the metal is under a spot price perhaps more intense than at any time since the days of William Jennings Bryan's cry for a dollar for silver.
As a commodity, silver has been entering on the edge of short supply. Miners say its official prices have been too low to encourage efficient output. Users wanted a price held down.
As a backing for paper money, it supports some $2 billion of paper currency, all $1 bills and some $2, $5 and $10 bills, known as silver certificates, and it circulates as coins.

President Kennedy has ordered the Treasury to stop selling it at a pegged rate of 91.5 cents an ounce. He also wants the silver certificates replaced gradually by Federal Reserve notes—how the most widely used form of folding money.
That makes miners happy, and many others in states where mining activity may perk up. It makes users unhappy, although many agree it seemed inevitable.
Some silver dealers here say the price might jump above $1 an ounce, now that the Treasury isn't selling it at what they call bargain rates.
Commercial use of silver has been growing—while production of silver has been dropping.
It goes into jewelry and silverware. But use has been soaring for photographic film and electronics equipment, for use in missiles, in organic chemistry, even food preservation, and for electrical circuits in such appliances as TV sets and radios.

Higher metal prices could in time affect the retail prices of such items.
Supplies have grown tighter because much silver output was closed down, miners saying they couldn't operate profitably at the legal price—90.5 cents an ounce—the Treasury paid for their metal.
The gap between demand and supply in this country has been bridged by the U.S. Treasury selling part of its supply. At the start of the year the Treasury had 123.5 million ounces not tied up as backing for currency. The steady commercial demand has whittled that down to 22 million ounces.
Now commercial users must look to the world market—where prices seem bound to rise, even if they fluctuate widely for a time.
American silver producers—and those in other lands—contend that the expected higher price for the metal will start up production in mines now idle.
With more production, they argue, the metal will come back to adequate supply and the price will be stable.
Big users aren't so happy. Eastman Kodak uses nearly 28.5 million ounces a year to make silver nitrate for its films. It has tried to build up a stockpile, wishes it could have got more.
Some users are philosophical about it. At the rate the Treasury stockpile was dwindling, there wouldn't have been much left in it anyway, even if the President hadn't acted.

Baseball Barons Call It Quits

BIRMINGHAM (AP)—The Birmingham Barons will not operate in the class AA Southern Association baseball league next year, the Birmingham News said. Barons owner Albert Belcher reported from Tampa, Fla., today.
The News quoted Belcher, who is attending the minor league convention at Tampa, as saying in a formal statement:
"It is my understanding that some of the teams in the Southern expect to play Negro players in 1962."
"At a meeting of the league directors Sunday night I told them I would not allow the Barons to play an integrated team at Rickwood."
"The league directors wanted me to move the franchise to another city but I declined. Birmingham is my home town and I plan to remain here."
Belcher said he had asked directors of the league to allow him to retain the franchise on an inactive basis. He said he had received no reply yet.

Wonderful Baked Ham!

At this time of year the woman who feeds a family needs to provide a variety of the hot hearty meats that are so impressive when served for Sunday dinner and which provide planned leftovers for later meals through the week. Roasts of beef or lamb (because of that eternal budget) must be occasional treats, for most families. Poultry and fish are most economical but lose their appeal if served too often. But good baked ham will provide a change of pace and still not break the bank.
The Chinese love their pork "sweet and sour." Americans love their ham with sweet and sharp accents. Here's a good suggestion that handsomely brings those two notes into the picture. The ham has both in its aromatic coating. And a rich fruity sweet touch accompanies the ham.

Baked Ham
1/2 tenderized ham
1/2 cup mustard-with-horseradish
3/4 cup brown sugar
Whole cloves

Follow directions on label for baking ham. If no instructions come with ham, place in a roasting pan, bake in a slow oven (300° F.), allowing 22 minutes per pound. One half hour before meat is done remove rind gently. Score fat and stud with cloves. Combine mustard-with-horseradish and brown sugar. Spread over ham with a spatula. Return to oven for remaining 30 minutes. Serve with Apricots Supreme.

Apricots Supreme
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup real mayonnaise
16 apricot halves

Combine cinnamon and cloves. Sprinkle in centers of apricots. Spoon real mayonnaise in centers of 8 apricot halves, top with remaining halves. Place on cookie sheet or broil pan and broil about 5 minutes or until apricots begin to brown.

JFK Might Visit Russia If Asked

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy held open today the possibility that he might someday visit the Soviet Union if he were invited.
The question of the possible visit came up at Kennedy's news conference after the President said he was delighted at the publication in the Soviet Union of an interview with him. But he noted he has not been invited to visit the Soviet Union.
Kennedy also said that at the moment there are important problems that must be solved before such a visit would be a matter of practical consideration—the problems of Berlin and Southeast Asia.
On the Berlin dispute, Kennedy said that an international control system for the highway between West Berlin and West Germany might be set up under higher four power control or through United Nations operations.
In his interview Saturday with Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, Kennedy proposed an international regime for the autobahn. By this he obviously meant control of Berlin's access routes by some authority other than the Communist East German government. The Soviet position is that the East Germans would take over control of the routes, though not West Berlin itself.
Asked today what he had in mind, Kennedy said he was anxious to work out some system that would assure the free movement of goods and people between West Berlin and West Germany and would avoid harassment. One suggestion which has been considered for achieving that result, he said, is the international administration.
Kennedy declined to discuss in detail the state of Western preparations for Berlin negotiations.
From other sources, it was learned that the Western powers are considering making proposals for a Berlin settlement. The proposals would be designed to strengthen the Western hold on West Berlin and its access routes. Kennedy's suggestion for internationalization of the autobahn may be included.
The prospective Western plan for Berlin, coupled with new exploratory talks with the Soviet government, is expected by authorities here to lead an East-West foreign ministers conference in a few months.
But U.S. officials say the negotiations thus foreseen will be prolonged and extremely difficult and no compromise solution of the Berlin dispute is in sight.
The Kennedy interview with Alexei Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev, dramatically illustrated the complete conflict of aims on Berlin issues with which the Soviet Union and the West are approaching negotiations.
The conflict of aims developed in what was really an exchange of views between Adzhubei and Kennedy. Adzhubei is believed here to have chosen this technique so that when the full record of the interview was published in Izvestia its readers were presented with the Soviet as well as the Western viewpoint.
Kennedy said that the desire of the Western powers is to maintain "a very limited number" of

State Booth to Twelve Cities
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission announced Tuesday that it will set up an Arkansas booth at 13 travel shows in 12 cities between Jan. 10 and April 22 next year.
All except one of the shows will be in other states. Chicago is the only city which will be visited twice. The in-state show is the Arkansas Fishing, Boating and Sports Show at Hot Springs April 18-22.
Publicity and Parks Commission personnel manning the booths will distribute literature and answer questions about Arkansas. Commission Director Ted Woods estimated two million persons will visit the 13 shows.
Besides Chicago, the Arkansas exhibit will be set up in Des Moines, Kansas City, Wichita, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Los Angeles, Minneapolis and Dallas during the show season.
U.S., British and French troops in West Berlin and "to have, for example, an international administration on the Autobahn (German superhighway) so that goods and people can move freely in and out."
With those purposes secured, Kennedy said, "we can have peace in this area for years." At another point he said that there has been peace in Europe for 15 years and "the problem now is to see if we can reach a negotiation which can settle this matter for another 15 years."

Telephone Change
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Allied Telephone Co. of Little Rock bought the Dalark Telephone Co. and its 39 telephones for $1,000 from Pearl Langley and James C. Woods Monday. Dalark served rural territory in Clark and Dallas counties.
